Lawful status in the United States:

The Vermont DMV uses a U.S. Department of Homeland Security program known as Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements (SAVE) to electronically verify immigration documents issued by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security or U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS).

Residency requirement for a Vermont Learner's permit:

To prove Vermont residency, the applicant must provide the Department with one of the documents indicated above. If the applicant is a minor, the parent/guardian will be required to provide one of the residency documents.

If the applicant is not a Vermont resident, he/she may only obtain a Vermont Learner's Permit for the purpose of participating in a driver education and training course. The applicant must provide the Department with one of the following:

- A letter from a school Guidance Counselor stating the student/applicant is to be enrolled in a driver education course, or
- A letter from a Driver Education School indicating the applicant/student is enrolled in a class.

Vermont residency and current residential address:

To prove Vermont residency, applicants must provide the following

- Two pieces of mail with current name and street address

If mail is not received at the street address, provide any two (2) of the following which show street address:

- Utility bill -- must list service address
- Property tax bill with physical location
- Lease or Landlord statement
- Vermont EBT (Electronic Benefit Transfer) card or Vermont AIM (Advanced Information Management) identification card
- Homeowners/Renters insurance (policy/proof of claim)

If the applicant resides with others and gets no mail at their street address:

- Signed statement from the person with whom they reside, and one proof of residency document (above) from that person

Minors:

- Parental Residency Affidavit and one (1) parent residency document from above
- Parent/Guardian evidence of relationship to applicant

These requirements pertain to new Licenses, Commercial Driver Licenses, Enhanced Driver Licenses or Non-Driver ID's, however, upon renewal, if the applicant has an out-of-state legal address, he or she is required to provide one of the above documents to prove Vermont residency.

The residential address you supply must be a street or highway address. It may not be a post office box. In areas where a number and street name have not been assigned, an address convention used by the U.S. Postal Service is acceptable. (You may use a post office box as your mailing address.)

Social Security number (SSN):

The Vermont DMV must verify your SSN. Your name and date of birth will be verified with the Social Security Administration (SSA) at the time of your application, through Social Security Online Verification (SSOLV). To document your SSN, present one of the following documents that contain your current name. Photocopies and faxes of documents will NOT be accepted.

- Your Social Security card
- W-2 form
- Social Security Administration 1099 form
- Non-Social Security Administration 1099 form
- Pay stub with your name and Social Security number on it

If you are a temporary foreign national not authorized for employment, you are required to present documentation from SSA verifying you are not eligible for a SSN; Vermont DMV will verify your USCIS number. If you are eligible for employment but do not have a SSN, you are required to obtain and present one. The Vermont DMV will not issue a DL or ID if the remaining status time is less than 30 days. The Vermont DMV will electronically verify your name, date of birth and SSN with the Social Security Administration. Make sure your document is up to date and accurate to avoid delay.
